DANCES OF THE WORLD

Dances of the World is a new collection from Royal Doulton and has been inspired by traditional dances from around the globe.

Chinese Fan Dance - HN5568

2935 008 RRP $199.00

Developed during the Han dynasty some 2,000 years ago, the art of the Chinese fan dance conveys the hue, extravagance & splendour of the nations' culture.

Highlights of the Chinese fan dance are its' delicate movements to an ever changing rhythm which emphasize the grace & dynamics.

Irish Celtic Dance - HN5569

2935 009 RRP $199.00

A succession of invaders & migrants to Ireland over the centuries, brought with them unique styles of folk dance which developed into reels, hornpipes & jigs.

As the years advanced and styles changed, the hands & arms were not held so rigid but were more relaxed and usually on the waist, a move that was thought to have more control & appear less provocative.

French Can Can - HN5571

Although originating in Paris in the 1830's as a dance in which male students were the main participants, it wasn't until the latter part of the 19th century that the "Can Can" was further developed by women and became fully realized by the 1920's.

The instantly recognisable "French Can Can" dance is highly energetic & physically demanding, with its high kicking, manipulation of the skirts & provocative body movements.

Russian Ballerina - HN5567

2935 007 RRP $199.00

Thought to have originated in the courts of the Italian renaissance, ballet was further developed by the Russians into a concert dance where its classical traditions were born in the mid 18th century.

Famous ballet choreographers collaborated with composer Tchaikovsky to create classics such as "Swan Lake", "Sleeping Beauty" & "The Nutcracker" easily recognised for their grace & artistry.

Scottish Highland Fling - HN5572

2935 012 RRP $199.00

Victorious Celtic warriors from the Gaelic Highlands of Scotland, returning from battle were the originators of the "Scottish Highland Fling", joyously dancing on a small shield or "Targe".

The dramatic arm movements where the arms are raised in the air are thought to represent the stag, a creature ever present on the moors, is the main feature of the dance which has the accompaniment of traditional bagpipe music.

Spanish Flamenco - HN5570

2935 010 RRP $199.00

Although originating from the Andalusia region of southern Spain, the influences of the Flamenco dance date back centuries, incorporating elements of the Egyptian, Byzantine & Moorish cultures.

The fire & passion of the Flamenco, with its dramatic angular dance steps & hand claps, became an outlet for the poor & oppressed gypsy peoples of the region.
