Jeff Leatham is a renewed florist with rockstar status. He is the 'go to' florist to the stars and has created a sensation with his extravagant floral designs. Working side-by-side with the design team at the House of Waterford Crystal Studio in Ireland, Jeff created this new collection of floral-themed pieces which radiate his design ethos and personal electricity and magnetism. Together, Waterford and Jeff Leatham meld the essence of two natural elements – fine cut crystal and flowers – to create an entirely new approach to the concept of floral arrangement and presentation. Inspiration for the names of the new collections in Fleurology by Jeff Leatham comes from celebrities whom Jeff has designed floral arrangements for Kylie Minogue, Tina Turner and his grandmother Cleo.

Designed by Jo Sampson and inspired by the purity of the arctic regions, this collection presents a bold and dramatic range of dressing table accessories. Working with blocks of refractive optical glass, the hallmark of the Glacia Collection is flat, polished surfaces presenting an angular geometric theme. Contemporary contrasts of gold accents and satin finished white metal create a luxurious dressing table landscape, where pieces can either stand alone or together.

Admired for graceful form that defines tradition even as it transcends it, Lismore has wooed and won three generations. Ireland's spectacular Lismore Castle provided the inspiration over 60 years ago. That spark led to a creative outpouring that continues to this day with fresh shapes, styles and interpretations of this striking diamond and wedge cut.

Lismore Diamond was the official stemware of the Lismore Anniversary Collection of 2012. Lismore Diamond is a strikingly modern reinterpretation of Lismore's signature diamond and upright cuts expressed in smart, new stemware. Lismore Diamond features a unique execution of Lismore - horizontal cuts across vertical cuts - creating light refracting, diamond-like facets of unsurpassed reflectivity.

The Mad Men collection evokes the atmosphere of the hit television show Mad Men. During the 1960s, barware was very important... this was the era of drinking at work, three Martini lunches and cocktail hour! Three crystal patterns have been created with gold treatment: Circon, Draper – named after the lead character, Don Draper and Olson – named after the lead lady Peggy.

WATERFORD

General Information

CARING FOR CRYSTAL

Waterford Crystal recommends that you hand-wash your crystal one piece at a time in moderately hot water using a mild detergent. Use a soft cleaning cloth – do not use scouring pads or abrasive cleansers.

The interiors of decanters and vases, which are often inaccessible, can be cleaned by pouring in rice with warm soapy water and swirling the mixture around.

After washing in detergent, rinse your crystal well in clean water then air dry on a draining rack or hand dry with a soft lint-free cloth. The rims are naturally the weakest part of stemware, so do not place glasses upside down on the draining rack or when storing them. When hand drying, hold the glass by the bowl but refrain from twisting the stem and the bowl in opposite directions as this can cause the stem to snap.

Tests (by association) suggest that repeated washings in very hot water and detergent can create a cloudy look on the surface of the finest crystal. Waterford Crystal does not recommend cleaning crystal using a dishwasher as the extreme heat and abrasive cleaners may mark the surface of the crystal. Jostling in a dishwasher could also cause chipping or cracking.

To prevent cracking or breakage caused by extreme temperature variations, do not pour cold liquids into crystal that has just been washed in hot water. Likewise, allow chilled crystal to reach room temperature before immersing in hot water.

To safely remove wax from your crystal candlesticks after use, place your candlestick in the freezer for 10 minutes. The wax will harden, allowing it to easily peel away.

Do not use water to remove wax.

CARING FOR CHINA

Waterford tableware is all made to be used. Before being accepted for production, all new patterns are put through an exhaustive series of tests to ensure they are as hard wearing as possible. Quality checks are constantly carried out on tableware to monitor its ability to resist acids, alkalis and other substances present in foods and detergents, and withstand the general rigours of day-to-day use. So don't keep your tableware locked away, use it and enjoy it with confidence.

STORING YOUR TABLEWARE

All tableware is subject to abrasion from repeated handling and stacking. We recommend that you stack no more than six items together, one on top of another. To avoid scratching your tableware, plates should not be slid out from the bottom of a stack – always lift them out from the top.

WASHING BY HAND

As a matter of hygiene, you should always wash any new purchases of tableware before first use in a mild solution of liquid detergent. Washing-up is one of the occasions when tableware can be damaged if it is not properly handled during both washing and draining. Even in water, the glazed surfaces can become scratched if rubbed against each other with force. So avoid putting too many plates in the water at any one time. Normal dish washing products used in hand-hot water will not harm your tableware. Teapot and coffeepot stains can be removed with bicarb soda, and silverware cleaner will remove "pencil marks" caused by minute deposits of metal from cutlery. Abrasives and harsh scourers should not be used on your bone china tableware.

WASHING YOUR TABLEWARE IN A DISHWASHER

It is perfectly safe to wash your tableware in an automatic dishwasher, so long as these guidelines are adhered to.

- Use a liquid detergent and follow the manufacturers instructions on the appropriate quantity of detergent to be used (avoid using corrosive dish washing agents such as tablets or granules). We recommend the use of Finish Liquid or Finish Gel
- Wash at 65°C maximum – the "short wash" or "china and crystal" cycle is sufficient for normal cleaning.
- As soon as the wash water has drained away, there should be an immediate rinse cycle to flush away deposits of detergent which will form a film if allowed to dry.

FREEZERS

Our tableware can be safely used in a freezer. However, care should be taken when re-heating frozen foods. No matter how strong the tableware, sudden changes of temperature (e.g. taking from the freezer and placing directly into a hot oven) is likely to cause thermal shock, which will damage the tableware.

WARMING YOUR TABLEWARE

It is perfectly safe to warm your tableware in your oven, up to 65°C.

MICROWAVE COOKING

Many of our tableware patterns can safely be used in a microwave oven. However, tableware decorated with any form of metallic rim or decoration (gold, silver or platinum) must not be placed in a microwave oven, where the intense heat will damage its high concentrations of precious metal. Never use your tableware in a microwave oven with the oven function.

CARING FOR SILVER PLATED PRODUCTS

Monique Lhuillier Waterford Fine Silver Gifts offer a distinctive collection of truly inspired silver plated gifts. Each creation is skilfully designed and painstakingly crafted to meet the exacting standards and tradition of quality for which Waterford is world-renowned.

This item has been specially treated with a lacquer coating to help to prevent tarnish. To clean, simply wipe with a soft dry cloth. Polishes and cleaners may affect the coating.

CARING FOR NICKEL PLATED PRODUCTS

To maintain the shine of your nickel plated giftware, simply wipe with a soft dry cloth. Hand wash only before the first use with hot water and a mild liquid soap as polishes and cleaners may affect the coating. Dishwasher use is not recommended for this giftware.

Clean immediately after use to prevent tarnishing or staining. Dry thoroughly and immediately before storing to avoid spotting and store in a dry, humid free environment.

Foods containing salt may cause corrosion if they remain on the surface. Prolonged use with water, fruit juice, or any acidic liquids can damage the surface. Not recommended for food storage, particularly hot food, over a prolonged period of time. Do not use in the microwave or to heat food in an oven.

CARING FOR STAINLESS STEEL PRODUCTS

We recommend hand washing your Monique Lhuillier Stainless Steel Giftware in mild soapy water, using a soft cloth to wash and dry. Dishwasher use is not recommended for this giftware.

Dry thoroughly and do not use scouring pads, steel wool or abrasive cleaners. Do not leave stainless steel giftware immersed in water or wet for long periods of time as this may damage the surface finish.

Your stainless steel giftware should not be used in the microwave nor should it be used to heat food in the oven.
